53-93½-New. By recent amendment, an additional act of bankruptcy consists of an insolvent debtor having suffered or permitted any creditor to obtain through legal proceedings any levy, attachment, or judgment and not having the same vacated or discharged within thirty days thereafter. 20F(2d) 939 (Bankr. Act c 3 § 21a(4), effective May 27, 1926).
53-93⅓-New. The purpose of the law has not been changed by such amendment, as the object legislated against is still the likelihood of obtaining a preference. 20F(2d)939.
53-93¼-New. A judgment need not be conclusive as not the subject of review before other creditors could claim that a preference had been, or was about to be, obtained. 20F(2d)939.
53-93⅓-New. Pendency of appeal from a judgment obtained by a creditor against an insolvent debtor does not take away the final character of the judgment. 20F(2d)939.
53-94 31F(2d)930.
53-98½-New. Judgment must be one creating a lien on bankrupt's property. 25F(2d)773.
53-98¼-New. Where an alleged lien is not valid, no act of bankruptcy occurs. 25F(2d)646.

143–21⅙–New. An order nisi is the minimum notice that will suffice to justify a sentence of imprisonment as a punishment for failure to comply with a turnover order. 18F(2d)579.

143–21⅐–New. A sentence of a bankrupt to imprisonment until he complies with a turnover order should be conditioned until further order of court. 18 F(2d)579.

143–21⅛–New. A sentence of certain partners of a bankrupt firm to imprisonment until a turnover order is complied with is not supported by evidence where their inclusion in the order was pro forma and it appears that they had no part in the general management and control of the business. 18F(2d)579.

143-21⅛-New. In proceedings to punish a bankrupt for contempt for failure to obey an order to pay over money made by a referee and confirmed by the court, testimony that the bankrupt did not have the money when the order was made is inadmissible. 18F(2d)244.

143-21⅛-New. In such a proceeding the burden is on the bankrupt to show that he lost the money under conditions which he could not prevent. 18F(2d)244.

143-21⅛-New. In such a proceeding the bankrupt's mere denial under oath is insufficient to overcome the presumption that he still has the money. 18F(2d)244.

143-21⅛-New. Failure to obey a turnover order will not be punished as a civil contempt unless the court is satisfied that the bankrupt has the ability to comply with the order. 18F(2d)288.

143-21⅛-New. In proceedings to punish a bankrupt for contempt for failure to obey a turnover order, such order is prima facie proof of possession by the bankrupt. 18F(2d)288.

143-21⅛-New. Such presumption may not be rebutted by mere denials. 18F(2d)288.

143-21⅛-New. Such presumption may be rebutted by testimony as to the bankrupt's present financial condition. 18F(2d)288.

143-21⅛-New. When such presumption is met, the burden is on the trustee to show the bankrupt's possession and ability to comply. 18F(2d)288.

143-21⅛-New. Such possession may be shown by circumstantial evidence alone. 18F(2d)288.

143-21⅛-New. In such proceedings it devolves on the bankrupt to show how and when property previously adjudged in his possession or control has passed out of his possession or control. 27F(2d)196.

143-21⅛-New. A referee's turnover order must be assumed to have been correct, and a presumption of continuing ability to comply therewith prevails until the bankrupt shows otherwise. 28F(2d)457.

143-21⅛-New. A finally established order may not be collaterally attacked. 27F(2d)196.

143-21⅛-New. A turnover order is conclusive of the fact of possession or control and concealment by the bankrupt. 27F(2d)196.

143-21⅛-New. In a contempt proceeding against a bankrupt for failure to comply with a turnover order, the sole questions are whether the bankrupt is presently able to comply with such order and whether he is disobeying it. 27F(2d)196.

143-21⅛-New. In such case the bankrupt makes sufficient answer by showing that, wholly without his fault, he is unable to obey the order. 27F(2d)196.

143-21⅛-New. A record, showing a referee's order, not challenged by any proceedings for review, and the bankrupt's admission that she had not complied with the order, made a prima facie case of contempt. 28F(2d)457.

143-21⅛-New. To sustain an order committing a bankrupt for contempt in refusing to comply with a referee's order to turn over the assets or cost price thereof to the trustee, there must be title to the money in the bankrupt's estate and possession thereof in the bankrupt. 29F(2d)65 [certiorari den 49SCt345(9th case)].

143-21⅛-New. The degree of proof required is clear and convincing proof, such as is necessary to establish fraud, not proof beyond a reasonable doubt. 30F(2d)523(2dcase).

143-21⅛-New. In the absence of proof or pretense of proof of inability arising since a turnover order in bankruptcy to obey that order, it follows almost as a matter of course that the order adjudging the bankrupts in civil contempt for failure to obey the order must be granted. 30F(2d)523(2dcase).

143-21⅛-New. A prima facie case of contempt is made by production of a turnover order. 29F(2d)65 [certiorari den 49SCt345(9thcase)].

143-21⅛-New. A bankrupt has the burden of explaining his failure to obey a turnover order so as to satisfy the court that the failure was due to circumstances for which he should not be held to answer. 31F(2d)972 (inability to comply held not shown).

143-21⅛-New. A mere assertion of inability is no excuse. 30F(2d)190.

143-21⅛-New. A turnover order in bankruptcy having conclusively established that the bankrupts then had possession of a specified sum belonging to the bankrupt estate, such state of facts is presumed to continue until the contrary is shown. 30F(2d)523(2dcase).

143-21⅛-New. Substantial testimony tending to sustain an inference of the bankrupt's present ability to pay the cost price of the assets, which the referee ordered him to turn over to the trustee, has been held to warrant an adjudication of contempt in willfully refusing to comply with such order. 29F(2d)65 [certiorari den 49SCt345(9th case)].

143-21⅛-New. The rule that the court should proceed cautiously in punishing by indefinite imprisonment disobedience of orders in civil actions, especially turnover orders in bankruptcy, which are usually made without direct evidence of physical possession by the bankrupts, applies more to the granting of a turnover order than to a contempt order. 30F(2d)523(2dcase).

143-21⅛-New. On appeal from an order committing a bankrupt for contempt in refusing to comply with the referee's order, confirmed by the court, to turn over the assets to the trustee, the latter order is not finally an adjudication as respects even appellant's rights. 29F(2d)65 [certiorari den 49SCt345(9th case)].

143-21⅛-New. Failure to review turnover order determined bankrupt's control at time of bankruptcy of assets described. 43F(2d)258.

143-21⅛-New. Service of turnover order on attorney recognized as bankrupt's attorney without substitution order is proper. 43F(2d)698.

143-22⅛-New. A turnover order in bankruptcy is not subject to collateral attack in a subsequent proceeding to punish bankrupts for contempt for failing to comply therewith, but the only inquiry that can be made therein is whether something has happened since the turnover order was made establishing a new inability on the part of the bankrupts to comply therewith. US 49SCt173; 30F(2d)523(2dcase); 30F(2d)685; 31F(2d)972.

143-22¼-New. That a judgment committing a bankrupt for contempt in refusing to comply with an order to turn over the assets to a trustee gave the date of the court's order as that of the referee's order, which was later approved and confirmed by the court, has been held not reversible error. 29F(2d)65 [certiorari den 49SCt345(9thcase)].

143-22¼-New. [§ 237b] j. Ancillary Proceedings. A bankruptcy court has jurisdiction to aid in the enforcement of an order of a bankruptcy court of another district, committing the bankrupt for civil contempt, by making such order its own. 14F(2d)471.

482–64 1/14–New. State examiner may not sell real estate of an insolvent bank. 79Mont184, 255P744.

482–64 1/15–New. Phrases in a statute to the effect that on a bank's insolvency, the receiver is under supervision of the state examiner, has been held to relate only to administration detail and not to matters requiring judicial action. 79Mont184, 255P744.

482–64 1/16–New. A contract, by which an officer of a bank, in consideration of the bank's being permitted to continue in business for a stated time, obligated himself to the superintendent of banks to make good any loss to depositors or creditors by reason of such continuance, is not invalid as requiring suspension of official duties of the superintendent. 18F(2d)252.

482–64 1/17–New. An officer making such contract is liable thereon where the bank remains insolvent at the end of such period and is taken over for liquidation, and in the meantime some depositors and creditors have been paid in full while others remain unpaid. 18F(2d)252.

482–64 1/18–New. The appointment of a receiver by the state bank comptroller operates as a suspension of the rights, privileges, and franchises theretofore exercised by the bank or trust company. 94Fla411, 114S364.

482-64½9-New. The authority of such receiver is not limited merely to taking custody of such trust assets. 94Fla 411, 114S364.

482-64½0-New. Such appointment gives the state comptroller complete discretionary power over the assets and affairs of the bank or trust company. 94 Fla411, 114S364.

482-64½1-New. A receiver so appointed takes title to assets and "affairs" of the bank, "affairs" being construed as including all business interests of the bank, including trust estates. 94Fla 411, 114S364.

482-64½2-New. He is charged with handling trust estates held by the bank or trust company in the same manner in which the original trustee was charged with handling them until a substitute trustee is appointed by a court of chancery. 94Fla411, 114S364.

482-64½3-New. It is the duty of the state bank comptroller through such receiver to execute the trust according to the terms under which the trust was created. 94Fla411, 114S364.

482-64½4-New. In such case the right to exercise the franchise of the bank or trust company ceases to exist unless and until it is revived or reinstated under direction of the comptroller or in pursuance of a judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction. 94Fla411, 114S 364.

482-64½5-New. Moneys received from trust estates by such receiver as acting trustee are not within a provision requiring deposit of funds with the state treasurer. 94Fla411, 114S364.

482-64½6-New. Where a bank makes excessive loans to officers or carries fictitious assets or past-due paper, the comptroller may, in his discretion, take possession until affairs are in safe condition, or appoint receiver. 94Fla1023, 114S760.

482-64½7-New. Indictment of the comptroller for corrupt failure to wind up the state bank's business, knowing the bank's legal reserve was less than required, and forfeit the franchise, was held not to charge a criminal offense. 94Fla1023, 114S760.

482-64½8-New. Indictment of the comptroller for failure to forfeit the state bank's franchise was held not to charge a criminal offense. 94Fla1023, 114S760.

482-64½9-New. The amount of an assessment to be made by the superintendent of banks against stockholders of a bank which has been taken over by him rests in his discretion so long as it does not exceed the liability of each stockholder. 37GaA246, 139SE570.

482-64½0-New. The exercise of such discretion is conclusive on the stockholders. 37GaA246, 139SE570.

482-64½1-New. The commissioner of finance in charge of the assets of an insolvent bank takes them subject to all set-offs and equities existing when he takes charge of the bank. MoA 279 SW435.

482-64½2-New. A banking commissioner paying a note pledged by an insolvent bank to which it was payable has no greater right than the pledgee could assert in foreclosure of its lien thereon. TexCivA 298SW620.

482-64½3-New. In an action on such note the banking commissioner has the burden of pleading and proving necessity for resort to the note to secure reimbursement for the amount paid to the pledgee. TexCivA 298SW620.

482-64½4-New. A statute authorizing the banking board to fix a standard form for the bond of a bank to secure depositors has been held not to confer upon the banking board authority to determine what kind of security banks shall give. TexCivA 9SW(2d)446.

484-77½-New. Each member bank has an interest in the proper administration of the fund. 120Kan620, 244P852.

484-77¼-New. Any member bank may maintain a proper action to inquire into waste or illegality in the administration of the fund. 120Kan620, 244P852.

484-77¼-New. Mandamus is not a proper proceeding to inquire into details as to proper administration of the fund. 120Kan620, 244P852.

484–77½–New. A proceeding under the Declaratory Judgment Act is not an appropriate proceeding to inquire into the details of the administration of the fund. 120Kan620, 244P852.

484–77¼–New. A bank's liability to assessment is not what is usually termed a personal one. 120Kan620, 244P852.

484–77⅓–New. A bank's liability is limited to its bonds or money pledged, and assessments to create or replenish the fund, as provided by statute. 120 Kan620, 244P852.

484–77½–New. Bonds, or money, pledged by a bank, are guaranty that the bank will pay assessments necessary to replenish the fund to enable it to pay the amount due depositors holding the bank commissioner's certificates issued while the pledging bank is operating under the Guaranty Law. 120Kan 620, 244P852.

484–77¾–New. When a solvent member bank is put out from under operation of the Guaranty Law by the bank commissioner, under statute, its bonds or money pledged are forfeited to the fund, its deposits cease to be guaranteed, and it is not liable to the fund for assessments to be made after that time. 120 Kan620, 244P852.

484–77 1/10–New. When a solvent member of a bank voluntarily withdraws, under statute, or voluntarily liquidates and ceases to do business, as many of its bonds pledged may be sold as are necessary to pay assessments to replenish the fund sufficiently to pay the amount due on the bank commissioner's certificates issued to depositors of the failed bank in liquidation at the time of such withdrawal, or liquidation and cessation of business, and the balance should be returned to the bank. 120 Kan620, 244P852.

484–77 1/11–New. Sale of bonds pledged under the Guaranty Law for payment of assessments to replenish the fund should be made as of any property pledged for a specific purpose. 120Kan 620, 244P852.

484–77 1/12–New. When money has been pledged in lieu of bonds, the amount of assessments to replenish the fund to pay the depositors may be charged against, or drawn directly from, the money pledged. 120Kan620, 244P852.

484–77 1/13–New. A bank commissioner's certificates, issued under statute, to depositors of a failed bank are not "negotiable instruments" as the term is used in the Negotiable Instruments Act, but simply evidence statutory rights and obligations. 120Kan620, 244P852.

484–77 1/14–New. A member bank pays assessments to the fund and not to depositors of the failed member bank. 120Kan620, 244P852.

484–77 1/15–New. Participating bank's noncompliance with the General Banking Law does not ipso facto cancel or nullify. 120Kan673, 245P123.

484–77 1/16–New. It is only for noncompliance with some provision of the Guaranty Act that the right of a participating bank to have its deposits guaranteed may be canceled. 120Kan673, 245P123.

484–77 1/17–New. Although a surety signs, without authority, a bank's bond as depository of public funds, he is estopped to deny liability, and the bank is not liable to assessment on such funds for the state bank guaranty fund. 140Miss585, 105S484.

484–77 1/18–New. Under some statutes, when a bank which has been operating under the Guaranty Law fails, a stockholder is liable for the par value of his stock if the assets of the bank are insufficient to pay depositors. 141Miss 523, 106S772.

484–77 1/19–New. A stockholder of a bank coming regularly and legally on resolution of a majority of the stockholders under such statute, although without his knowledge, is subject to the liability prescribed by the statute on the bank's becoming insolvent. 141 Miss523, 106S772.

484–77 1/20–New. A stockholder in a bank under the Guaranteed Deposit Law is liable for interest from the time demand is made on him on account of his double liability, the insufficiency of the assets to pay depositors being then determined. 141Miss523, 106S772.

484–77 1/21–New. Such statutes are not unconstitutional as violation of due process or equal protection of laws or impairing obligation of contracts. 51 ND603, 200NW524.

484–77 1/22–New. Assessment against bank is not insurance premium but lost payment. 50SD250, 209NW358.

484–77 1/23–New. Certificate of indebtedness issued by guaranty fund cannot be set off against assessment against bank. 50SD250, 209NW358.

484–77 1/24–New. Although the fund commission is authorized to issue certificates of indebtedness, the fund is not the debtor in the true sense, banks being the debtors. 50SD250, 209NW 358.

484–77 1/25–New. The fund need pay certificates issued by the commission only when funds have accrued from banks. 50SD250, 209NW358.

484–77 1/26–New. A promise of the fund to pay a certificate of indebtedness issued under Code [1919] § 9020, as amended, is qualified and restricted to a certain time and place and subject to priorities, and not of the same character and quality as an assessment under § 9018, for maintenance of funds and certificate cannot be set off against assessment. 50SD250, 209NW358.

484–77 1/27–New. Assessed bank is under duty to pay assessment as soon as made. 50SD250, 209NW358.

484–77 1/28–New. From the time a bank is assessed it becomes the trustee of the assessment until it is delivered to the commission. 50SD250, 209NW358.

484–77 1/29–New. A bank cannot offset a certificate issued by the fund under Code [1919] § 9020, as amended, against assessments for such fund under § 9018 until prior certificates have been paid in full. 50SD250, 209NW358.

484–77 1/30–New. A bank which has operated for years under benefits of Depositors' Guaranty Law cannot claim that it did not consent thereto. 49SD 518, 207NW467.

484–77 1/31–New. The phrase "otherwise secured" means secured by a bank issuing a certificate of deposit otherwise than by the depositor's guaranty fund, and where the certificate of deposit is indorsed to another merely for the purpose of transferring ownership, such indorsement is not such security as will release the deposit from the protection of the guarantee fund. TexCivA 271 SW169.

484–77 1/32–New. Under the Texas statute a state bank and trust company is entitled to change its system of guaranteeing deposits from guaranty to bond security system by tendering to the banking commissioner a duly authorized application for such change and its United States bonds, approved by a county judge of the company's domicile and by the banking commissioner, in an amount equal to the bank's capital stock. 115Tex201, 280SW161.

484–77 1/33–New. Liability of a fund is purely statutory and limits such liability to payment of the remainder of unsecured noninterest-bearing deposits after application of available funds of a failed bank. TexCommnA 278SW425.

484–77 1/34–New. Under some statutes a state bank desiring to reorganize as a national bank may require the state superintendent to consent to nationalization on payment of assessments for past years levied by the depositors' guaranty fund commission and tender of the assessment for the current year. 50SD579, 210NW990 (liability for future assessments).

484–77 1/35–New. A state bank officer cannot take from, nor add to, a statute regulating the guaranty of deposits. 115Nebr702, 214NW640.

484–77 1/36–New. The custodian of depositors' guaranty fund may order payments to depositors of a failed bank only pursuant to statute. 115Nebr702, 214NW640.

484–77 1/37–New. In some jurisdictions the administration of the depositors' guaranty fund is not subject to judicial control. 220MoA474, 274SW945.

484–77 1/38–New. Assignment by bank commissioner of certificate against guaranty fund does not carry right to proceed against officers of bank under their statutory liability. 124Kan679, 261P835.

484–77 1/39–New. Where a state bank, operating under the provisions of the Depositors' Guaranty Fund Act, converts into a national bank pursuant to the provisions of the federal statute, its liability on account of obligations against the guaranty fund ceases, and it is no longer subject to the authority and requirements of the guaranty fund commission, and cannot be required to make and file statements with the commission showing its average daily deposits. 57ND574, 224NW161.

484–77 1/40–New. Although a statute authorizing the board to fix the form of bond for personal security is invalid as delegating legislative powers to the board, the bond executed was not a nullity. TexCivA 9SW(2d)446.

484–77 1/41–New. A state bank which has accepted benefits arising from deposits pursuant to Depositors' Guaranty Law cannot complain of a special assessment upon such deposits levied for the benefit of the guaranty fund. Nebr 227NW 922.

484–77 1/42–New. Legislative appropriation to reimburse depositors for losses sustained in banks operated by guaranty fund commission held unconstitutional as violative of due process. Nebr 231NW703.

485–78 But see 41 OklACR131. Contra 50SD126, 208NW584.

485–79 Contra. TexCivA 284SW308.

485–79½–New. The guaranty fund commission is but an agency created by the legislature to execute the policy adopted by it in dealing with insolvent banking corporations. 51ND603, 200NW524; 55ND163, 212NW822.

485–79¼–New. The assessment to create the guaranty fund is somewhat analogous to a special assessment, and must be referred to the sovereign power to levy a tax. 51ND603, 200NW524.

485–79¼–New. The assessment is levied for a public purpose and the fund is created through the exercise of the taxing power. 51ND603, 200NW524.

485–79⅓–New. Discretion vested by the legislature in the commission cannot be directed or controlled by the courts. 51ND603, 200NW524; 55ND163, 212 NW822.

485–79⅓–New. The legislature had power to modify the plan of the original act and to prorate payments on the claims of depositors. 51ND603, 200NW 524.

485–79½–New. In South Dakota mandamus is available to protect interests of owners of fund and compel payment thereof to those lawfully entitled thereto, such as holders of certificates of deposit. 50SD126, 208NW584.

485–80 48SD529, 205NW221 (payment of depositors in full sum guaranty fund does not relieve assets of bank from liability to depositors). But see 118Nebr 337, 224NW868.

Under a section of Bank Guaranty Law, providing that all deposits not otherwise secured shall be guaranteed, it is necessary, in order to create a deposit, that money, or the equivalent of money, shall in intention and effect be placed in or at the command of the bank. 49SD558, 207NW979; TexCivA 276SW731.

485-82¼-New. Status of certificates of deposit with respect to guaranty fund is fixed when certificates are issued and where at such time they do not become liabilities of the guaranty fund, no subsequent action can make them such. TexCivA 276SW731. [a] Rights of innocent purchasers.-Where certificates of deposit are not within the protection of the guaranty fund in the hands of the payee, negotiation of such certificates to innocent purchasers does not change their status. 115Nebr574, 214NW4.

485-82½-New. A depositor protected by the guaranty fund is one who puts money or its equivalent in a bank and leaves it there for safe-keeping. Tex CivA 276SW731.

485-82¾-New. To be entitled to protection as a depositor a person must deliver to, and leave with, a bank money, or checks or drafts, the commercial equivalent of money, subject to his order, by virtue of which action title to the money passes to the bank. Tex CommnA 272SW775; TexCivA 276SW731; TexCivA 290SW835.

485-82⅛-New. Where there has not been a bona fide deposit, the depositors' guaranty fund does not protect a transaction, no matter how it is evidenced. 121Kan768, 250P276; TexCommnA 272SW775; TexCivA 276SW731; TexCivA 290SW835.

485-82⅛-New. The depositors' guaranty fund does not guarantee the integrity of evidences of a deposit such as a certificate of deposit, but only the deposit itself. TexCommnA 272SW775.

485-82¼-New. A deposit, to come within the guaranty fund, must create the relation of debtor and creditor. Tex CivA 276SW731.

485-82½-New. Where a county treasurer deposits public funds in a state bank in excess of fifty per cent of the paid-up capital stock of such bank, the entire deposit is within the protection of the depositors' guaranty fund. 114Nebr213, 206NW758.

485-82¼-New. In order to create a deposit which will be protected by the Guaranty Law, it is necessary that money or its equivalent shall in intention and effect be placed in, or at the command of, the bank under circumstances which do not transgress specific limitations of the Bank Guaranty Law. 114Nebr650, 209NW334; 116Nebr223, 216NW803.

485-82¼-New. The equitable owner of deposit is entitled to payment out of guaranty fund. 115Nebr574, 214NW4; 115Nebr593, 214NW6.

485-82½-New. Where money placed in a bank does not draw interest in excess of five per cent, it is a deposit entitled to protection and is not a loan. 114Nebr168, 206NW755 (evidence insufficient to show secret agreement for more than five per cent); 114Nebr781, 210NW152.

485-82¼-New. The owner of an interest-bearing time deposit cannot participate in the fund. TexCivA 276SW731.

485-82¼-New. Changing the deposit to noninterest-bearing after insolvency is a fraud on the guaranty fund. Tex CivA 276SW731.

485-82⅛-New. The deposit must be such as to make the depositor creditor of the bank. TexCivA 276SW731; Tex CivA 290SW835.

485-82½-New. In the notes will be found cases in which the evidence has been held sufficient to sustain a decree recommending payment of claims out of the depositors' guaranty fund. 115 Nebr611, 214NW10.

485-82½-New. The law will look through all semblances and forms to ascertain the actual facts as to whether there has been a bona fide deposit, and, if not, the guaranty fund will not protect the transaction, no matter how it may be evidenced. 121Kan768, 250P 276; 115Nebr574, 214NW4; 115Nebr 593, 214NW6; TexCivA 276SW731.

485-82½-New. The statute does not prevent a stockholder of a bank from becoming a depositor entitled as such to the protection of the guaranty fund. 115Nebr890, 215NW128.

485-82½-New. A bank's solicitation, receipt, and retention of funds belonging to others is not conclusive as to whether the transaction is a loan or a deposit within the Bank Guaranty Law. 114Nebr389, 207NW683; 115Nebr606, 214NW2.

485-82½-New. Claimant is not entitled to protection as an innocent purchaser within the Negotiable Instruments Law, but must show deposit within provisions of law. TexCivA 276 SW731.

485-82½-New. A depositor, not within the protection of the guaranty fund because his loan bears an excessive rate of interest, may generally change the loan to a deposit entitled to the protection of the fund. 115Nebr606, 214NW2.

485-82½-New. Where a time certificate of deposit bearing on its face five per cent interest is issued for money actually deposited, a secret oral agreement for additional interest may be abandoned by surrender of the certificate and issuance of a new one with interest at five per cent from the date of its issuance, and the new certificate may be within protection of the Guaranty Law. 114Nebr626, 209NW217; 114Nebr781, 210NW152.

485-82½-New. Where a certificate of deposit bearing six per cent interest is issued to a depositor who is ignorant of the fact that such rate of interest deprives him of the protection of the fund, and subsequently on learning of such facts, he surrenders the certificate and procures a new one bearing five per cent interest, the deposit is entitled to the protection of the guaranty fund. 115Nebr606, 214NW2.

485-82½-New. Any scheme or subterfuge to procure any part of the guaranty fund by evading or cheating the law is ineffective for such purpose. Tex CivA 276SW731.

485-82½-New. Whether a transaction is a loan or a deposit within the Bank Guaranty Law is determined by the facts and circumstances surrounding each particular case. 121Kan768, 250P 276; 115Nebr574, 214NW4; TexCivA 276SW731.

485-82½-New. An agreement by an officer of the bank to pay interest in addition to five per cent allowed by statute does not withdraw from the protection of Bank Guaranty Law certificate of deposit bearing interest at the rate of five per cent only issued to person intrusting money to the bank in good faith. 114Nebr626, 209NW217.

485-82½-New. Where a time certificate of deposit bearing on its face five per cent interest is issued for money actually deposited, a secret oral agreement for additional interest may be abandoned by surrender of the certificate and issuance of a new one with interest at five per cent from the date of its issuance, and the new certificate may be within protection of the Guaranty Law. 114Nebr626, 209NW217; 114 Nebr781, 210NW152.

485-82½-New. When the commissioner of banks takes charge of a failed bank, certificates on the bank depositors' guaranty fund for the amount of their respective deposits are required by statute to be issued to depositors at the earliest moment, 120Kan673, 245P 123.

485-82½-New. subject to such delay as may be necessitated by required investigation of each claim for a certificate and possible litigation. 120Kan 673, 245P123.

485-82½-New. But, when issued, it is proper that the date of the issue of such certificates should be that of the bank's failure. 120Kan673, 245P123.

485-82½-New. If a member bank, pending issuance of such certificates, withdraws or ceases by liquidation to be a member bank, it is liable for assessments necessary to replenish the guaranty fund, 120Kan673, 245P123.

485-82½-New. to the extent of its bonds, or money pledged, for the payment of certificates drawn on that fund issued or issuable to depositors of member banks which had failed prior to date of such withdrawal or liquidation. 120Kan673, 245P123.

485-82½-New. Such liability becomes effective whether or not such certificates had been actually issued, the date of actual issuance thereof being immaterial. 120Kan673, 245P123.

485-82½-New. The right of a depositor to certificates drawn on the guaranty fund depends on whether the failed bank was a certified participant in the guaranty system and had complied with provisions of the Guaranty Act, but not in whether the bank had been conducted in compliance with all the provisions of the General Banking Law. 120Kan 673, 245P123.

485-82½-New. A depositor's right to a certificate drawn on the fund is not affected where action taken by the bank commissioner to exclude the bank from benefits of the guaranty system are not in compliance with the statute. 120Kan 673, 245P123.

485-82½-New. A depositor's right to participate in the guaranty fund is not affected by subsequent cancellation of the bank's right to participate in the guaranty system. 120Kan673, 245P123.

485-82½-New. In Kansas the fact that security of a deposit is inadequate does not entitle it to the protection of the guaranty fund. 121Kan545, 247P432.

485-82½-New. Evidence has been held insufficient to show such collateral agreement between a depositor and a bank as to bring it within the inhibition of a statute regulating such agreements and deprive it of the benefit of the depositors' guaranty fund. 113Nebr679, 204NW795.

485-82½-New. Certificates of deposit in an insolvent bank entitled to the protection of the depositors' guaranty fund draw interest at the rate found in its certificate from its date until date of payment if paid before maturity, and, if not paid until after maturity, draw interest until maturity only, but if the count, upon a hearing, determines that the claim is valid, interest runs on the judgment at seven per cent from the date of the hearing. 113Nebr679, 204 NW795; 116Nebr825, 219NW241.

485-82½-New. Irrespective of its form or recitals, a purchaser of a certificate of deposit unlawfully issued is not an innocent holder thereof so as to entitle him to a share in the guaranty fund. 113Nebr679, 205NW297.

485-82½-New. Both the depositor and the bank must come within the provisions of the Guaranty Law to make the fund liable for payment of deposit. 113Nebr772, 205NW297.

485-82½-New. Money or its equivalent must constitute a deposit to bring the depositor within the Guaranty Law. 113Nebr772, 205NW297.

485-82½-New. Money or its equivalent must be placed in or at the command of a bank under circumstances which do not transgress specific limitations of the Guaranty Law. 113Nebr772, 205NW 297.

485-82½-New. An innocent holder of a certificate of deposit not within the Guaranty Law cannot claim benefit of the fund. 113Nebr772, 205NW297.

485-82½-New. Evidence held to sustain judgment that the holder of a cer-ticate of deposit was not entitled to the protection of the guaranty fund. 113Nebr772, 205NW297.

485–82½9–New. Where a depositor upon learning of misappropriation of his deposit complained and requested that his deposit be converted into a time deposit drawing interest, and the cashier stated that the deposit would draw interest but no rate was agreed upon, failure of the depositor to sue to recover the amount of the deposit does not constitute a ratification of the misappropriation so as to estop him from claiming the benefit of the guaranty fund. 114Nebr82, 206NW158; 113Nebr778, 205NW300.

485–82½0–New. In such case the depositor is not entitled to interest from the date of the misappropriation, 114Nebr82, 206NW158.

485–82½1–New. but only from the date of the allowance of his claim by the district court. 114Nebr82, 206NW158.

485–82½2–New. A surety on a bond of a state bank to secure the return of public funds deposited therein by the county treasurer in excess of fifty per cent of paid-up capital stock of the bank is subrogated to the right of the county treasurer to preference and payment out of the guaranty fund where the surety on demand of the county treasurer pays liability on the bond and takes an assignment of the rights and remedies of the county treasurer. 114Nebr213, 206NW758.

485–82½3–New. Commercial paper received and credited by a bank as a deposit may be the equivalent of money for commercial banking purposes within the meaning of the Bank Guaranty Law. 114Nebr389, 207NW683.

485–82½4–New. A performed and closed transaction between a state bank and a depositor for the payment of excessive interest on deposits may be abandoned in good faith so as not to taint future deposits. 114Nebr389, 207NW683.

485–82½5–New. The fact that renewals include accumulations of excess interest on prior certificates will not prevent their allowance against the guaranty fund. 114Nebr626, 209NW217; 115Nebr611, 214NW10.

485–82½6–New. False entries upon books of a bank will not deprive claimant of rights, as a depositor, in the guaranty fund. 114Nebr664, 209NW249.

485–82½7–New. A corporation may make a deposit which will be within the protection of the guaranty fund, although some of its officers and stockholders are officers and stockholders of the bank, and although it has knowledge that the bank is in need of money. 114Nebr664, 209NW249.

485–82½8–New. A deposit by an officer of a bank, as trustee for a corporation, is protected by the guaranty fund, where the bank has knowledge of the character of the fund, although it is not properly entered on the books of the bank to show that it is a trust fund. 114Nebr664, 209NW249.

485–82½9–New. Whether a transaction constitutes a guaranty law must depend upon the facts and circumstances surrounding the particular transaction. 114Nebr646, 209NW333; 115Nebr574, 214NW4.

485–82½0–New. Ordinarily, where a stockholder, with knowledge of the bank's insolvency, or unsafe condition, at the request of the bank's officials, places money in or to the bank's credit to meet a pressing obligation and not for safe-keeping or the convenience of the stockholder, the transaction does not constitute a deposit within the protection of the Depositors' Guaranty Law. 114Nebr646, 209NW333; 115Nebr574, 214NW4; 116Nebr521, 218NW405; 116Nebr530, 218NW408.

485–82½1–New. Where a stockholder in a bank whose bonds on deposit with the bank for a specific purpose have been sold by the bank in violation of instructions, accepts in settlement of his claim a certificate of deposit knowing that the bank has become insolvent or in an unsafe condition, the transaction does not constitute a deposit within the protection of the Bank Guaranty Law. 114Nebr650, 209NW334; 116Nebr482, 218NW95 (bonds purchased by bank for customer).

485–82½2–New. A drawee bank paying a check amounting to overdraft, believing funds in transit from drawer bank, may participate in guarantee fund as subrogated to rights of original holder of check where drawee bank at time of payment did not know of insolvency of drawer. 114Nebr719, 209NW510.

485–82½3–New. A receiver may be ordered to pay taxes out of the guaranty fund where assets insufficient after payments have been made to depositors sufficient to have paid taxes. 114Nebr740, 209NW621.

485–82½4–New. A holder of a certificate, bearing interest in excess of the legal rate, was not entitled to payment from the guaranty fund, under a statute providing for payment therefrom to depositors in good faith. 48SD417, 204NW901.

485–82½5–New. Under a statute providing a guaranty fund for payment of depositors, a check is deemed equivalent of money, where accepted as consideration for a certificate of deposit, and amounts to deposit, if paid. 48SD417, 204NW901.

485–82½6–New. In South Dakota depositors and holders of exchange in good faith only are protected. 48SD417, 204NW901.

485–82½7–New. One who loans money to a bank with knowledge that the bank is unsafe, to enable the bank to increase depleted reserve, and not for his own use as a depositor, is not a depositor in good faith. 48SD417, 204NW901.

485–82½8–New. Where a customer forwarded a deed to a bank with instructions to deliver it when cash was paid and the bank accepted the check which was not made good, the customer is not an unsecured depositor entitled to protection of the guaranty fund. 48SD445, 205NW36.

485–82½9–New. The holder of a draft dishonored by the drawee because of the insolvency of the drawer bank is entitled to participate in the guaranty fund of the insolvent bank although his claim may not be allowable as one against the general assets of the bank because of failure to file it until after the time fixed in the notice to creditors. 49SD102, 206NW231.

485–82½70–New. The security of the guaranty fund afforded to holders of exchange in good faith is not dependent upon notice on formal claim. 49SD102, 206NW231.

485–82½71–New. In some jurisdictions the circuit court has jurisdiction to direct the superintendent of banks to arrange with the mandatory provisions of statute for payment of outstanding exchange in the hands of holders in good faith out of the guaranty fund. 49SD102, 206NW231.

485–82½72–New. Money withdrawn from the depositor's guaranty fund and deposited in banks remains a part of such fund. 49SD106, 206NW233.

485–82½73–New. Certificates of indebtedness issued by the depositor's guaranty fund commission have no priority over certificates maturing on the same date subsequently issued to depositors and holders of exchange in banks subsequently failing. 49SD106, 206NW233.

485–82½74–New. Banks holding depositor's guaranty fund certificates cannot offset such certificate against assessments for the guaranty fund until certificates payable on March 1 of the year preceding maturity of their certificates have been paid in full. 49SD106, 206NW233.

485–82½75–New. Liability of guaranty fund is purely statutory. 49SD558, 207NW979.

485–82½76–New. The original transaction with a bank must have been a deposit within the statute to entitle the holder of the exchange in good faith to payment from the fund. 115Nebr574, 214NW4; 49SD558, 207NW979.

485–82½77–New. The payee of a certificate of deposit, given by a bank as a loan, is not the holder of exchange in good faith entitled to payment from the fund on the bank's insolvency, and his transferee is in the same position regardless of whether the certificates were negotiable. 49SD558, 207NW979.

485–82½78–New. Liability of fund is separate and distinct from law of negotiable paper. 49SD558, 207NW979.

485–82½79–New. Certificate of deposit not issued for deposit but as a loan is not a deposit in good faith within statute. 49SD558, 207NW979.

485–82½80–New. A purchaser of a certificate of deposit issued by a bank merely as a loan without any deposit being made therefor is not entitled to payment from the fund. 49SD558, 207NW979.

485–82½81–New. The paramount purpose of the Bank Deposit Guaranty Law is to secure depositors and secure prompt payment of noninterest bearing and unsecured deposits. TexCommnA 267SW690.

485–82½82–New. It must be liberally construed to accomplish such purpose. TexCommnA 267SW690.

485–82½83–New. Change of an interest bearing loan to a noninterest bearing loan which is not collected does not make a creditor bank a depositor entitled to payment out of the depositor's guaranty fund. TexCommnA 272SW775.

485–82½84–New. Where a bank holding for collection a check drawn on another bank accepts a check from the drawee bank in payment, the collecting bank is not relieved from liability to the owner of the check received for collection on the theory that his claim was maintainable against the bank guaranty fund. TexCommnA 276SW209.

485–82½85–New. To be protected by the fund the depositor must have been an unsecured noninterest bearing depositor in the bank failing when the commissioner took it over. TexCommnA 276SW654; TexCommnA 290SW1090.

485–82½86–New. Secured or interest bearing depositor may, by agreement with bank, transfer his deposit to unsecured interest bearing class without repayment and redeposit if bank is solvent. TexCommnA 276SW654.

485–82½87–New. County is not entitled to protection of guaranty fund where attempt to transfer deposit from secured account to unsecured account was ineffectual because of bank's insolvency and inability to pay the county the amount of its indebtedness. TexCommnA 276SW654.

485–82½88–New. Such attempt will not be treated as having been effected by any fiction to do equity where, to treat transaction as equitable, payment and redeposit would be fraud on contributors to guaranty fund. TexCommnA 276SW654.

485–82½89–New. The liability of the guaranty fund in any case is not a matter of contract between a depositor or bank and the commissioner of banking. TexCommnA 276SW654.

485–82½90–New. Such liability is fixed by law and depends on status of deposit for which indemnity is sought. TexCommnA 276SW654.

485–82½91–New. Some statutes protect depositors at the time the commission takes possession of the failed bank regardless of when the deposit was made. TexCommnA 276SW654.

485–82½92–New. and insolvency of the bank at the time the deposit was made does not alter the fact nor affect the law that the county was an actual depositor on a noninterest bearing unsecured account on the date of the bank's failure. TexCommnA 276SW654.

485–82½93–New. Insolvency of the bank operates to prevent the court, treating an agreement for transfer of deposit, as an actual deposit. TexCommnA 276SW654.

485–82½94–New. But insolvency cannot have effect to deprive the county of the benefit of protection of the fund to the extent of the amount actually deposited, not under the original depository agreement, but as on an unsecured noninterest bearing deposit. TexCommnA 276 SW654.

485-82½5-New. At one time or another statutes in some jurisdictions have included deposits of public moneys as within the protection of the guaranty fund, TexCommnA 276SW654.

485-82½6-New. although in some jurisdictions more recent amendments of the statutes provide that deposits of public funds shall not be insured thereunder. TexCommnA 276SW654.

485-82½7-New. The different articles of the statute are to be construed in pari materia. TexCommnA 276SW654.

485-82½8-New. Adoption of one of the statutory systems being presumed, the depositor is required only to show which system the bank adopted. TexCivA 267 SW996.

485-82½9-New. Evidence sufficient to show deposit not interest bearing or secured. TexCivA 275SW193; TexCivA 284SW688.

485-82½100-New. Evidence held sufficient to support finding that the bank was closed by the banking commissioner for the purpose of liquidation. Tex CivA 275SW193.

485-82½101-New. A bank cannot become a "depositor" in another bank under the guaranty fund statute by giving it credit on an overdrawn account. Tex CivA 276SW731.

485-82½102-New. Commissions of collector deposited with public funds are not protected by fund before approval of collector's reports, TexCivA 277SW 411.

485-82½103-New. nor are commissions of tax collector intermingled with public funds in depositary's hands so protected. TexCivA 277SW411.

485-82½104-New. Only obligation secured by fund is noninterest bearing and otherwise unsecured deposits. TexCivA 277SW411.

485-82½105-New. But private funds of collector improperly mingled with public funds by depositing are protected by the fund. TexCivA 277SW411.

485-82½106-New. A bank commissioner is not an agent of depositors so as to charge them with notice that the bank's certificate as a participating bank has been revoked. 120Kan673, 245P123.

485-82½107-New. Certificates on the depositors' guaranty fund should be issued as of the date of the failure of the bank, and the right of precedence over later demands is affected by reason of resistance of valid claims in litigation. 123Kan4, 254P394.

485-82½108-New. In a suit to compel payment of a claim against a defunct bank out of the guaranty fund as an unsecured noninterest-bearing deposit, judgment against the bank and members of the banking board in their official capacity is proper. TexCivA 284 SW688.

485-82½109-New. Where a certificate of deposit provides that the deposit will bear interest only if left in the bank for twelve months, the issuing of the certificate fixes the obligation of the bank at once contingent on the deposit being left in the bank for twelve months. Tex CommnA 290SW1090.

485-82½110-New. A receiver of a bank has been held not estopped to assert as a defense against a claim on the guaranty fund that only a part of the deposit was bona fide. 115Nebr648, 214NW 253.

485-82½111-New. The fact that a city elected to sue its treasurer and surety on an official bond and recover judgment for an unsecured deposit in an insolvent state bank does not preclude it from also recovering such deposit under the Guaranty Depository Law. TexCivA 283SW213.

485-82½112-New. In a suit by a city to recover an unsecured deposit in an insolvent guaranty fund bank, the city treasurer, bondsmen, bank, and banking commissioner are proper parties. TexCivA 283SW213.

485-82½113-New. A bank selling travelers' checks through an agent has been held not to be doing business in another state so as to support an action by service on an agent. 143Wash518, 255P 934.

485-82½114-New. Under statutes the guaranty fund commission has power to pass upon and finally allow or reject claims of alleged depositors against the fund. 55ND163, 212NW822.

485-82½115-New. Certiorari will not lie to review an action of the guaranty fund commission in passing on the merits of claims of alleged depositors against the fund. 55ND178, 212NW828; 55ND182, 212NW829.

485-82½116-New. A state bank operated as a going concern by the state guaranty fund commission is not immune from a suit in an action to recover on a certificate of deposit. 20F(2d)775.

485-82½117-New. The statute providing for the operation of a bank by the guaranty fund commission has been held not to forbid maintenance of a suit against the bank operated as a going concern. 20F(2d)775.

Deposits in bank to pay checks for cotton held "special deposits"; checks on special deposits constituted equitable assignments pro tanto of deposits; buyers of cotton from bank to which cotton buyer pledged planters' warehouse receipts held in no position to enforce payment of checks as equitable assignments of cotton buyers' special deposits; purchasers of cotton from bank to which cotton buyer pledged planters' warehouse receipts held entitled to maintain equitable suit against planters' bank and cotton buyer to have rights determined (Civ. Code 1910, § 5821).

When under the above arrangement the cotton buyer made deposits in the bank, the same being expressly made for the purpose of payment of his checks given in payment for cotton bought by him from planters and merchants, such deposits were special deposits; and checks drawn on such deposits by him for such purposes amounted to an equitable assignment of so much of these deposits as was necessary to pay them.

(a) But, as the plaintiffs in this suit have not by payment or otherwise become the owners of these checks, they are not in a position to enforce their payment upon the ground that they were equitable assignments of the deposits made by the cotton buyer. The right to proceed in the present action depends upon the principles announced above.

(b) When in these circumstances the planters bring suits in trover for the recovery of their cotton sold by the bank to third parties, and succeed in such suits, the bank would be liable over to such purchasers for the value of the cotton so sold by the bank to them.

(c) When the planters brought suits in the city court of Newman to recover their cotton, the defendants therein could vouch the bank in to defend them; but this remedy at law would not afford to the defendants a full, complete, and adequate remedy, as they would be thus subjected to the defenses of the various suits, and could not set up in that court the trust in their favor dealt with above. 202 Iowa887, 211NW 529; 202 Iowa859, 211NW532, 51ALR 910.
